

FCC Commissioners
The Federal Communications Commission RE: Docket 04-435
445 12th Street, SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners ,

I am writing to voice my concerns about the FCC's proposal to relax the restrictions on the use of cell phones on airplanes in flight.

There is no hard evidence that cell phone use doesn't interfere with navigational instruments. The introduction of cell phone use in the cabin will not only increase tension among passengers, it will compromise flight attendants' ability to maintain order in an emergency. Cell phone use could also enable terrorists to coordinate a plan of action more effectively.

I can just imagine someone standing in the aisle blocking the way to restrooms talking very loudly on the phone because they don't have a good signal. You try to get by but they don't move because they have been temporarily transported to another planet while they concentrate on the phone.

Please leave the current rules in effect.

Sincerely,

Thomas Hungerford
